

I agree that Morse code is an antiquated requirement and that it should no longer be required as part of the licensing requirements for amateur radio.